

RED CLOVER RANCH RETREAT FOR Healthcare Professionals

This retreat is a good fit for you if...

You don't have a history of psychosis or bipolar mania

You're interested in learning more professionally about ketamine assisted therapy

Your life is stable enough now to allow you to commit to a four day group retreat where you can engage with open-hearted presence

You don't currently have uncontrolled high blood pressure

You are not currently pregnant

You're currently going through a transition, experiencing depression, existential distress, or inner conflict

You are comfortable lying on the floor with blankets for 2-3 hours
